

Community Planning Forum

STONINGTON
Department of Planning

PURPOSE

The Community Planning Forum is a Stonington Department of Planning initiative to provide education and outreach to Stonington residents. The Town has a significant planning culture developed around the Zoning Regulations, and this culture is a key link to the past and a critical link to the future of the community.

While planning has been accomplished in a very public forum as part of the development of the Plan of Conservation and Development, many citizens have not been active participants or feel the need for additional dialog about these topics. This forum will provide an outlet for this discussion, and is anticipated to connect residents with planning topics, to make planning an integral part of the Town of Stonington.

TOPICS FOR DISCUSSION MAY INCLUDE

- Accessory Apartments
- Coastal Area Management
- Community Design
- Conservation Subdivisions
- Cultural Resource Protection
- Floodplain and Stormwater Management
- Greenway Planning
- Housing Affordability
- Open Space Protection
- Sprawl
- Sustainable Economic Development
- Traffic Calming
