

Stonington Redistricting

CHANGES IN 2022

Changes will affect voters in three ways

- Stonington is divided into two Connecticut Assembly districts for the first time. Not everyone in Stonington will be voting for the same House member.
- Voting lines are to be redrawn so that districts are more evenly populated. Some Stonington voters will be in new districts.
- Some polling places will change.

District 41 and 43

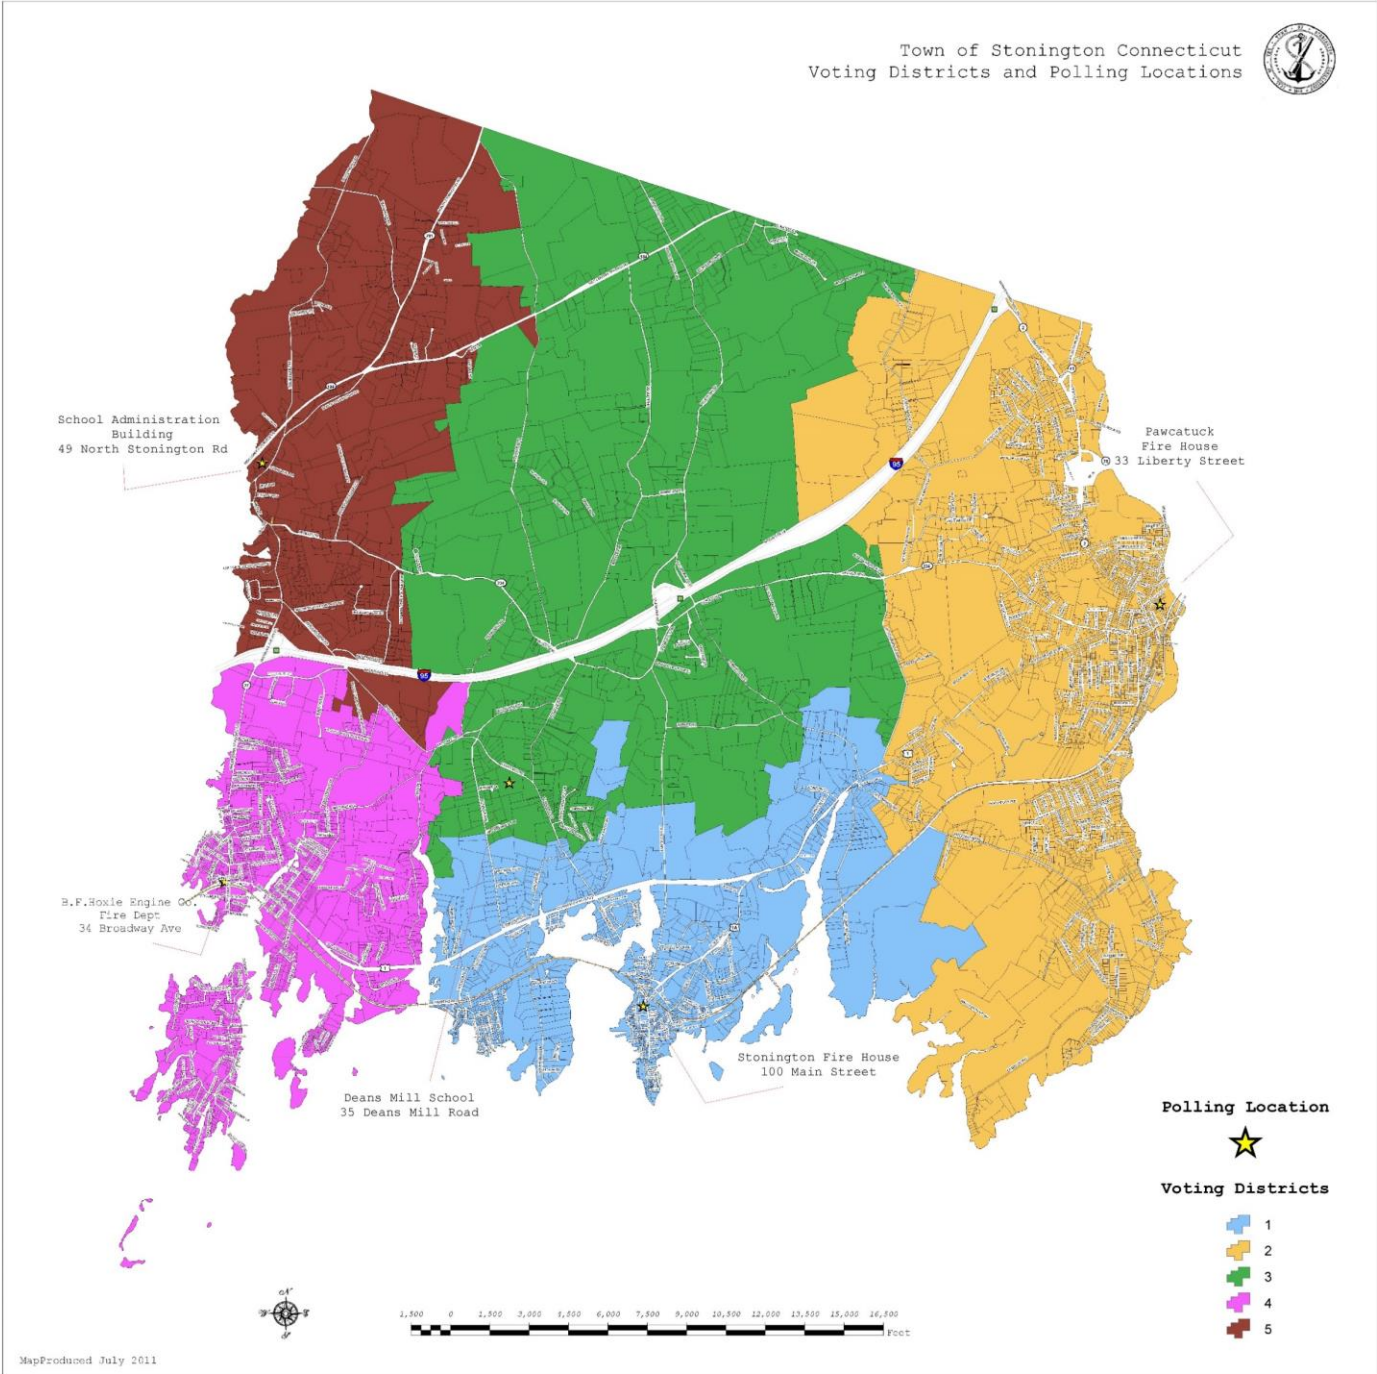

Stonington Voting Districts

- The number of voting districts won't change but the lines will
- The US Census results showed large discrepancies in voting districts
- Changes will improve voter experience

Current Stonington Voter Distribution

- District 1 2752
- District 2 7289
- District 3 1596
- District 4 3142
- District 5 2045

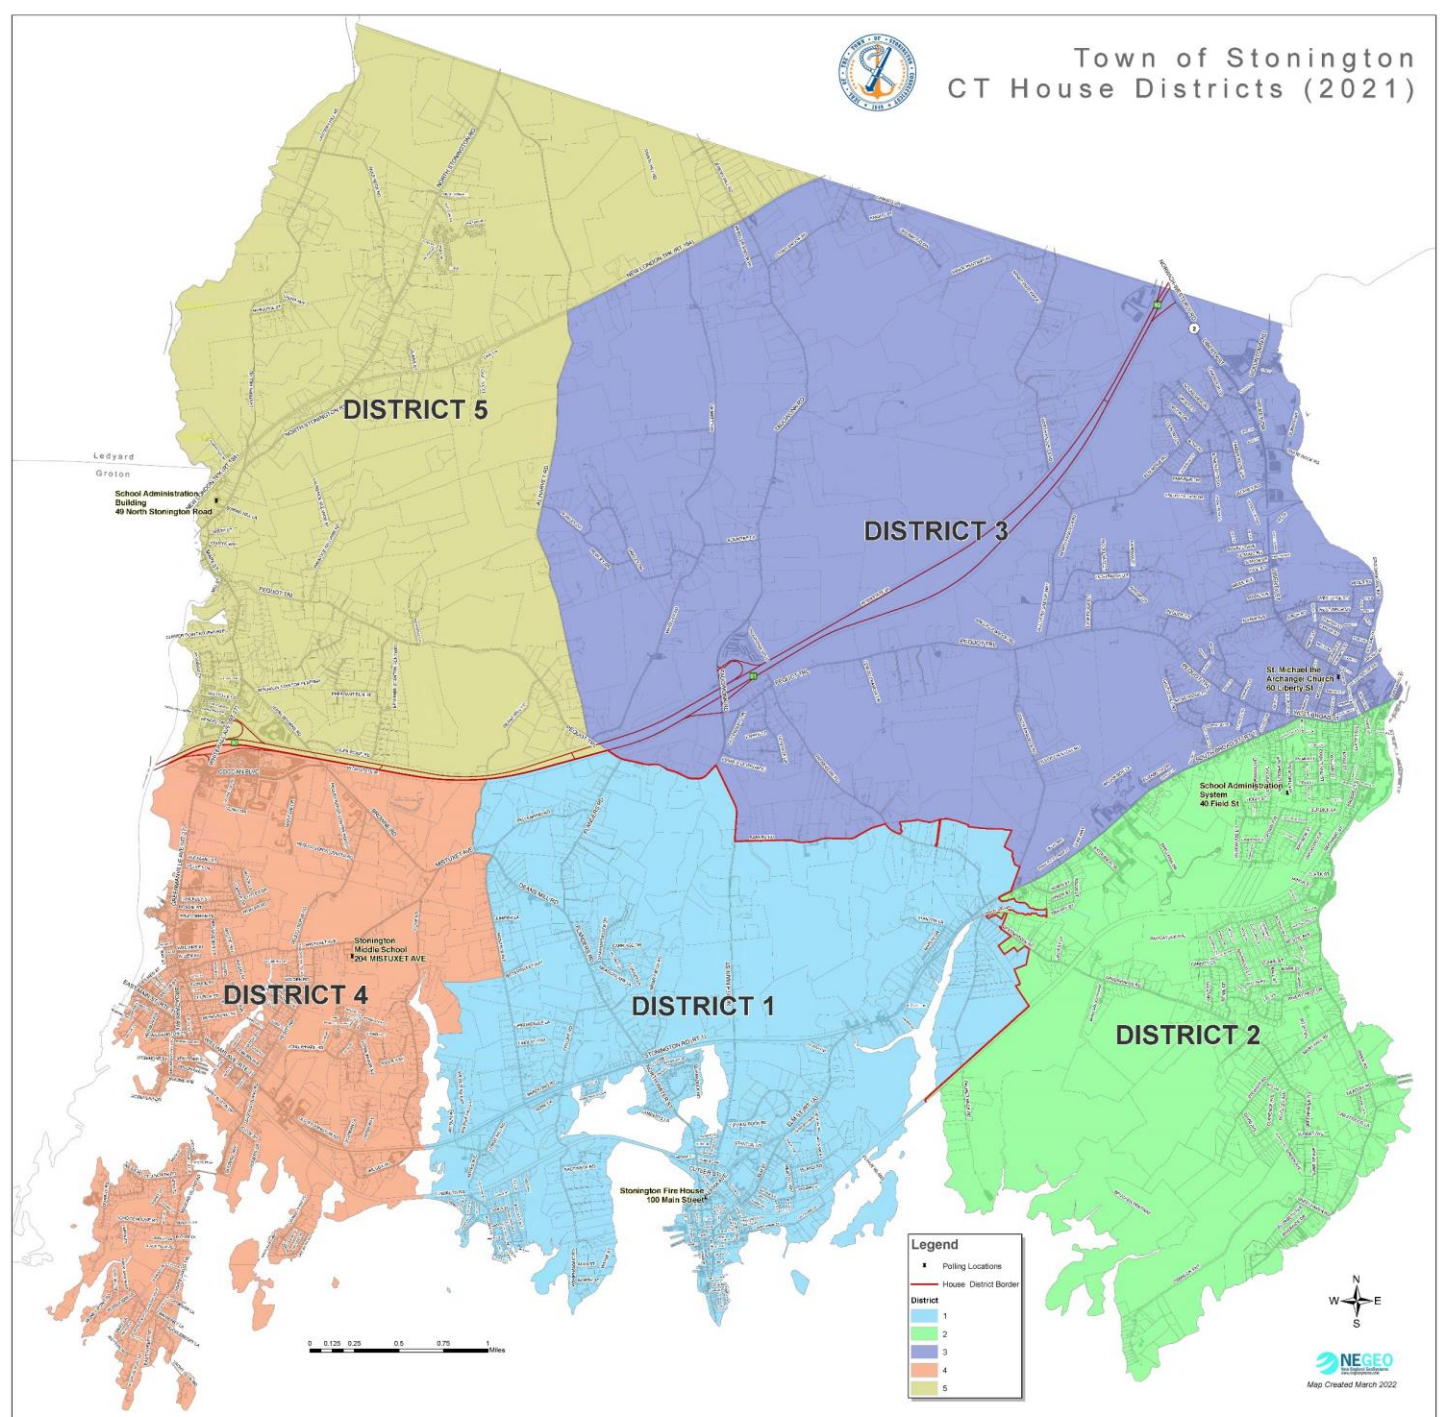

Current Map

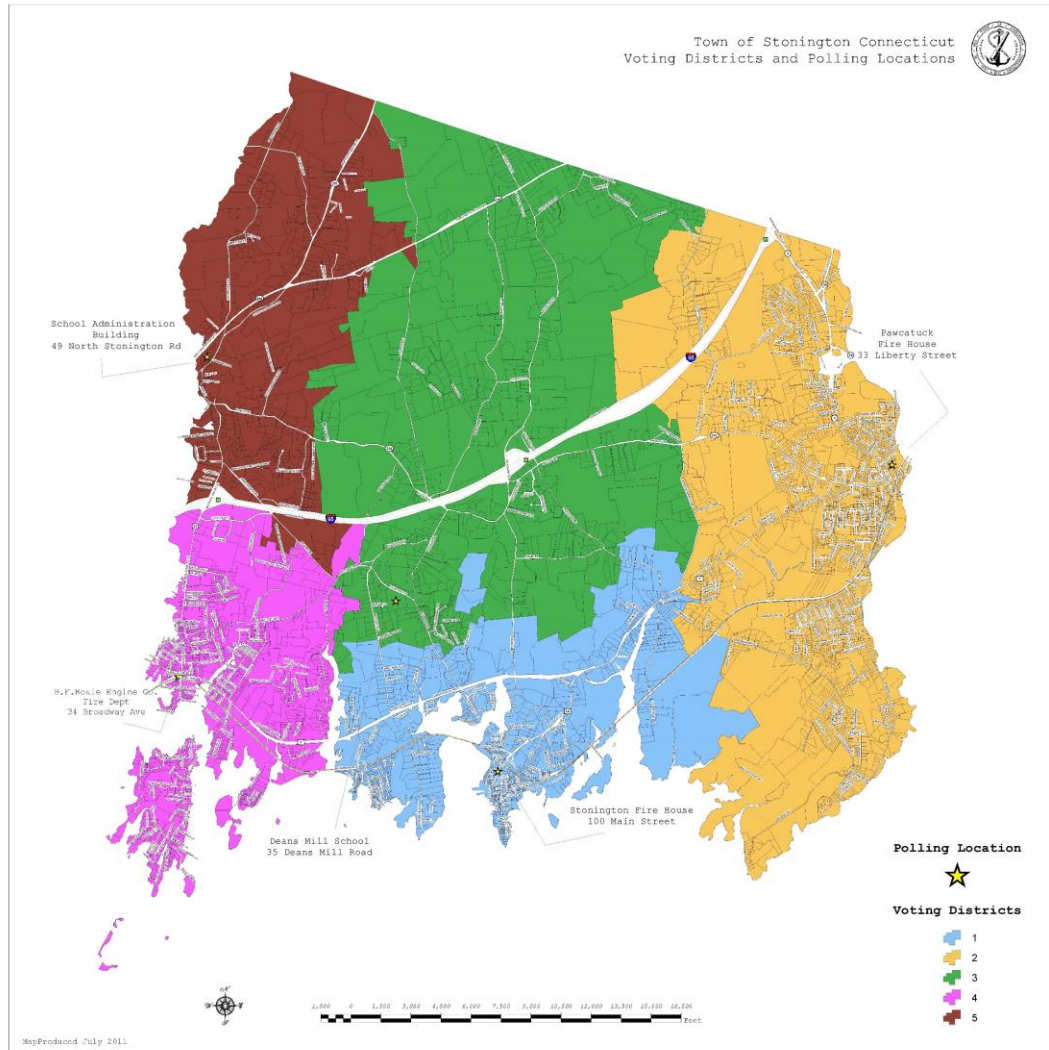

New Stonington Voting Districts

	Current	New
• District 1	2752	3102
• District 2	7289	3608
• District 3	1596	3681
• District 4	3142	3642
• District 5	2045	2245

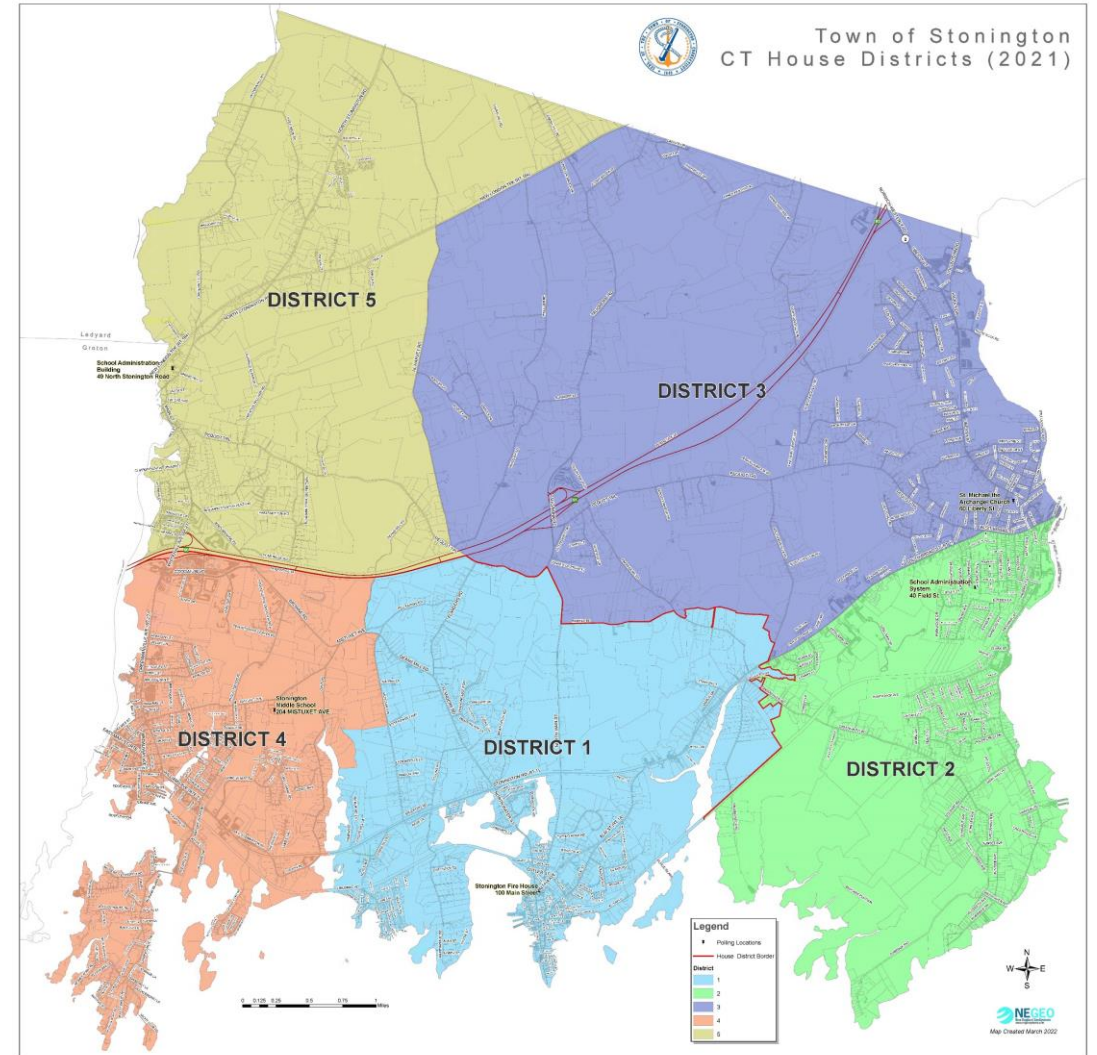

New Map

Current Map vs. New Map

Current

New

New Polling Places

- District 1 Stonington Fire House
- District 2 Board of Education District Office (former PMS)
- District 3 Saint Michael's Church
- District 4 Stonington Middle School
- District 5 Former School Admin Building (Old Mystic)

How will you know where to vote and who your representative is?

- Changes take effect for 2022 August primaries, or if there are none, 2022 November election
- Letters to voters:
 - May mailers
 - Fall reminder
- Website: www.stonington-ct.gov

